abortion, stress management, capital punishment, and war). This course also aims at widening students' perspective on life and death through exploring relevant philosophical and religious ideas of both Western and Chinese culture.

The course begins with a brief introduction to the history of the structure of the traditional Chinese and Christian families. Students will then be introduced to the debates over marriage and the family in the end of the 20th century and are expected to gain a thorough view of the relevant ethical issues. By applying moral theories and principles, students are encouraged to make relevant moral judgments on them.

This course aims to help students to develop their own critical approach to relevant social issues. It focuses on the main issues of the social philosophy. Topics such as liberty, equality, justice, toleration and human rights will be explored. Different views on the relevant issues will be critically discussed. Students will be encouraged to develop their own critical approach to relevant social issues.

This course provides an overview of some major themes in social philosophy. This course will provide students with an ethical framework which facilitates moral sensibility and moral reasoning and thus offers an avenue for the acquisition of moral leadership. The course focuses attention on the nature and manifestations of love in those forms that are capable of being scrutinized philosophically. In addition to introducing a variety of classical and contemporary philosophical theories, some reference is made to theories arising out of other disciplines, such as religion or psychology. Specific problems relating to sexuality, marriage and friendship are isolated and a search for viable solutions for the 21st century is carried out.

This course introduces students to the integral relation between sexuality and humanity from a Christian perspective. It studies the changing sexual values in the last few decades in the West, the subsequent movement in Hong Kong and the underlying ideologies. It surveys Christian views on sexuality from the perspectives of the scriptures, history and theology. The values in contemporary sex culture and the Christian tradition are compared and evaluated in the discussions of various issues such as pornography, prostitution, marriage and family, homosexual relations, procreation and new birth technologies, and gender roles. The course ends with an evaluation of the relevance of religious values in a pluralistic society.

This course introduces students to the integral relation between sexuality and humanity from a Christian perspective. It studies the changing sexual values in the last few decades in the West, the subsequent movement in Hong Kong and the underlying ideologies. It surveys Christian views on sexuality from the perspectives of the scriptures, history and theology. The values in contemporary sex culture and the Christian tradition are compared and evaluated in the discussions of various issues such as pornography, prostitution, marriage and family, homosexual relations, procreation and new birth technologies, and gender roles. The course ends with an evaluation of the relevance of religious values in a pluralistic society.

This course introduces students to the integral relation between sexuality and humanity from a Christian perspective. It studies the changing sexual values in the last few decades in the West, the subsequent movement in Hong Kong and the underlying ideologies. It surveys Christian views on sexuality from the perspectives of the scriptures, history and theology. The values in contemporary sex culture and the Christian tradition are compared and evaluated in the discussions of various issues such as pornography, prostitution, marriage and family, homosexual relations, procreation and new birth technologies, and gender roles. The course ends with an evaluation of the relevance of religious values in a pluralistic society.

This course introduces students to the integral relation between sexuality and humanity from a Christian perspective. It studies the changing sexual values in the last few decades in the West, the subsequent movement in Hong Kong and the underlying ideologies. It surveys Christian views on sexuality from the perspectives of the scriptures, history and theology. The values in contemporary sex culture and the Christian tradition are compared and evaluated in the discussions of various issues such as pornography, prostitution, marriage and family, homosexual relations, procreation and new birth technologies, and gender roles. The course ends with an evaluation of the relevance of religious values in a pluralistic society.

This course introduces students to the integral relation between sexuality and humanity from a Christian perspective. It studies the changing sexual values in the last few decades in the West, the subsequent movement in Hong Kong and the underlying ideologies. It surveys Christian views on sexuality from the perspectives of the scriptures, history and theology. The values in contemporary sex culture and the Christian tradition are compared and evaluated in the discussions of various issues such as pornography, prostitution, marriage and family, homosexual relations, procreation and new birth technologies, and gender roles. The course ends with an evaluation of the relevance of religious values in a pluralistic society.