

for producing television programmes of professional standard. In addition to acquiring more useful information about the technical, logistical, and aesthetic aspects of television production, the workshop aims to develop a better understanding of the thorough preparation necessary for an effective production and heightened awareness of the need for harmonious collaboration on the television production team. Emphasis is placed on the director's pre-production, planning, organization and execution of a multi-camera programme under the time-constrained studio conditions.

CTV 7060 3-D Modelling and Rendering Workshop (3,3,0)

Prerequisite: CTV 7030 2-D Computer Graphics Workshop

This course focuses on the concepts, issues and techniques of 3-D computer modelling and rendering as they apply to the animation art. Both technical and aesthetic issues will be addressed. Aesthetic issues will encompass concept, composition and historical context. Technical topics will include global and local coordinate systems, primitives, organic and polygon modelling, modelling techniques, hierarchical structure, lighting, camera setting, texture mapping, and rendering. The Alias|Wavefront Maya software package will be used to illustrate the principles and techniques dealt with and to produce the assignments.

The course is organized to maximize hands-on experience and will include in-class exercises. Because of the way the classes are run, attendance at and active participation in the weekly classes is considered extremely important and is considered in grade calculations.

There will be four assignments. They will be evaluated based both on aesthetics and on technical proficiency.

There will also be one written examination towards the end of the semester on the technical principles of 3-D computer modelling and rendering.

Successful completion of this course should provide students with an all-rounded understanding of the principles and operation of 3-D modelling and rendering tools. It paves the way for students to take the 3-D animation workshops later.
